We visited society's, quarters and independent bungalows to spread our motto of the campaign. We spoke to all age groups (especially above 18 years) and discussed their views on voting as a right and their participation in the process, and encouraged them to go and vote and to choose appropriate government for all of us.

Even children were made aware about this and they always helped in carrying plague cards and sign boards with our students and contributed their piece in the campaign.

Even residence of Pradhikaran responded positively and cooperated us and was convinced to go for voting for following elections.
