1. What is NPTEL?

NPTEL is an acronym for National Programme on Technology Enhanced Learning which is an initiative by seven Indian Institutes of Technology (IIT Bombay, Delhi, Guwahati, Kanpur, Kharagpur, Madras and Roorkee) and Indian Institute of Science (IISc) for creating course contents in engineering and science. NPTEL as a project originated from many deliberations between IITs, Indian Institutes of Management (IIMs) and Carnegie Mellon University (CMU) during the years 1999-2003. A proposal was jointly put forward by five IITs (Bombay, Delhi, Kanpur, Kharagpur and Madras) and IISc for creating contents for 100 courses as web based supplements and 100 complete video courses, for forty hours of duration per course. Web supplements were expected to cover materials that could be delivered in approximately forty hours. Five engineering branches (Civil, Computer Science, Electrical, Electronics and Communication and Mechanical) and core science programmes that all engineering students are required to take in their undergraduate engineering programme in India were chosen initially. Contents for the above courses were based on the model curriculum suggested by All India Council for Technical Education (AICTE) and the syllabi of major affiliating Universities in India.

2. Why NPTEL?

3. Is it along the lines of OCW (Open Courseware by Massachusetts Institute of Technology, USA)?

About obooko obooko is a totally free resource open to anyone, anywhere, regardless of means.

Where did the name come from?
We wanted to create a unique name containing the word 'book', while also conveying, in some way, the service we offer. Thus, from 'download books online to read offline' came forth obooko: the initial letters from online and offline forming literal book ends.

How long has obooko.com been online?
The website launched into cyberspace in December 2009 and continues to provide an opportunity for new and established writers from all parts of the world to self-publish and promote their work free of charge. And for us to offer fiction and non-fiction absolutely free for anyone to download.

Who runs obooko?
The website is operated and maintained in the UK by Tony Stanton, Tim Johnson and Sarah Danbridge. While we are each involved with publishing and production, Sarah is also responsible for membership administration. You can send a message to either of us at anytime via the contact form.

Are the eBooks available for download distributed legally?
Absolutely! For your peace of mind, every e-book on obooko is distributed with the author's written permission in compliance with U.S., U.K. and international Copyright law. We operate in a legal, honest and truthful manner, as you would expect us to.

Are the eBook files safe to download?
All free eBooks on obooko are checked for viruses and malware before being made available for publication. Each download is a single file: it will not be attached to any software promo's or other stuff you didn't ask for. When you download a PDF file, you get a PDF file, nothing else. It's also
